(2)Tiffine Wang’s comment

I’m grateful to join the ranks of amazing leaders chosen as a “women of influence” for Silicon Valley. The path here was certainly not easy but I stayed true to my leadership style which stems from compassion and empowerment.

One of my greatest desires is to have more women leaders at MS&AD, Japan, and around the world lead authentically through their own strengths to better contribute and change the world for the better.

It’s your turn. Dream. Plan. Execute.
