Mitsui Sumitomo Insurance Company, Limited (President: Shinichiro Funabiki, “Mitsui Sumitomo Insurance”) and Aioi Nissay Dowa Insurance Co., Ltd. (President: Keisuke Niino, “Aioi Nissay Dowa Insurance”), as members of the MS&AD Insurance Group Holdings, Inc., have jointly issued the “Tomoni Re 2024” catastrophe bonds (“cat bonds”<sup>*1</sup>) in Singapore<sup>*2</sup> covering domestic natural disaster risks in Japan.

Through appropriate use of reinsurance and cat bonds, the MS&AD Insurance Group Holdings will continue to strengthen risk management and improve soundness of the management, while promoting initiatives to improve the resilience of society.

- *1 : This is the 7th issuance for Mitsui Sumitomo Insurance and 3rd issuance for Aioi Nissay Dowa Insurance.
- *2 : Singapore has introduced various initiatives to develop the market for insurance-linked securities<sup>*3</sup>, such as an “Insurance Linked Securities Grant Scheme” to subsidize costs of cat bond issuances.
- *3 : A generic term for securitized products of insurance risks, which are used as a method of insurance risk transfer through the capital markets. Investment in insurance-linked securities, enables investors to earn investment returns that have limited correlation with broader financial markets

1. Summary of “Tomoni Re 2024”

Two tranches of notes have been issued by “Tomoni Re Pte. Ltd.”, a Singapore based special-purpose reinsurance vehicle jointly sponsored by Mitsui Sumitomo Insurance and Aioi Nissay Dowa. Each classes of notes provides indemnity reinsurance protection. When losses due to natural disasters in Japan exceed a certain threshold, a portion or the entire amount of the principal is paid to the sponsors as reinsurance in accordance with the amount exceeding threshold.

The Class A tranche, will provide Mitsui Sumitomo Insurance USD 100M of typhoon and flood protection on a per occurrence basis, realizing competitive spread in comparison with similar range of risk level. The other Class B tranche provides Aioi Nissay Dowa USD 100M and covers both typhoon and flood on per occurrence basis, and earthquake on a 3-year rolling aggregate basis by the same shared limit, which is the first cat bond structure introduced on a global basis<sup>*4</sup>.
